CODE OF CONDUCT

I. INTRODUCTION/DASA

The Sherburne-Earlville Central School District Board of Education is committed to providing a safe and orderly learning environment where students may receive and Sherburne- Earlville Central School District personnel may deliver quality educational services without disruption or interference. Responsible behavior by students, teachers, other Sherburne- Earlville Central School District personnel, parents, and visitors is essential to achieving this goal.

Sherburne-Earlville Central School District has a long-standing set of expectations for conduct on school property and at its functions. These expectations are based on the principles of civility, mutual respect, citizenship, character, tolerance, honesty, integrity, and the belief in the educational goals of the organization.

In accordance with the Dignity for All Students Act and the District's Dignity for All Students Act Policy 7580 and Regulation 7580R, students have a right to be free from harassment, bullying, including cyberbullying and/or discrimination, including but not limited to harassment, bullying, including cyberbullying and/or discrimination based on a person's actual or perceived race, color, weight, national origin, ethnic group, religion, religious practice, disability, sexual orientation, gender/gender identity or sex, by school employees or students on school property, at a school function and/or off school property where such harassment, bullying, including cyberbullying and/or discrimination creates or would foreseeably create a risk of substantial disruption within the school environment, where it is foreseeable that the conduct, threats, intimidation or abuse might reach school property.

The Board recognizes the need to clearly define these expectations for acceptable conduct on school property, at school functions, or off school property where such conduct creates or would foreseeably create a risk of substantial disruption within the school environment, where it is foreseeable that the conduct, threats, intimidation or abuse might reach school property, to identify the possible consequences of unacceptable conduct, and to ensure that discipline when necessary is administered promptly and fairly.

Accordingly, in collaboration with students, parents, teachers, and administrators, the Board of Education has established this Code of Conduct.

C. Students Who Are Repeatedly Disruptive

The minimum period of suspension from school for any student, other than a student with a disability, who engages in conduct which results in the student being removed from the classroom by teacher(s) on four or more occasions during a semester shall be five (5) days.

D. Students who make false reports or bomb threats

The minimum period of suspension from school for any student, other than a student with a disability, who is found guilty of making a false report or a bomb threat, may be one calendar year. In addition, all threats and reports will be reported to the NYS Police and students will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

E. Reports By Teachers/Staff

All staff members must immediately report and refer a violent student to the principal or the superintendent for a violation of this Code. All recommendations and referrals shall be made in writing, unless the conditions underlying the recommendation or referral warrant immediate attention. In such cases, a written report is to be prepared as soon as possible by the staff member making the referral.

F. Review By Superintendent

The superintendent may reduce the minimum penalties established above on a case-by-case basis. In deciding whether to modify the penalty, the superintendent will determine if a lesser suspension period or some other form of discipline may be more effective considering the following:

1. The student's age
2. The student's grade in school
3. The student's prior disciplinary record
4. Input from parents, teachers and/or others
5. Other extenuating circumstances.

VIII. REPORTING VIOLATIONS OF LAW AND THE CODE OF CONDUCT

B. Any weapons, alcohol, or illegal substances found shall be confiscated immediately, followed by notification of the parent of the student involved and the appropriate disciplinary action taken, up to and including permanent suspension and referral for prosecution.

C. School administrators may interview and question students regarding violations of the Sherburne-Earlville Code of Conduct, school rules, and about violations of laws committed on school grounds or at school events.

Administrators may also interview students when conduct at any other time or place has a direct and/or immediate effect on maintaining order and discipline or protecting the safety and welfare of the students or staff in the school

Students are not entitled to any sort of Miranda-type warnings before being questioned by school officials, nor are school officials required to contact a student's parents before questioning the student. Sherburne-Earlville Central School officials will tell a student why he or she is being questioned.

Searches of student lockers, desks, and other school storage places by school officials are permissible, as students should have no reasonable expectations of privacy with respect to these places. In addition, the Board of Education authorizes Sherburne-Earlville Central School administrators to conduct a search of a student's book bag and belongings and request that a student empty his or her pockets if the school official has reasonable suspicion to believe that the search will result in evidence that the student violated school rules or State/Federal Law. Students' book bags or other belongings may be searched whenever school officials are concerned about an immediate threat to student safety.

D. An administrator, program supervisor, and his or her designee, must notify the appropriate local law enforcement agency of those code violations that constitute a crime and substantially affect the order or security of a school as soon as practical, but in no event later than the close of business the day the Administrator learns of the violation. The notification may be made by telephone, followed by a letter mailed on the same day as the telephone call is made. The notification must identify the student and explain the conduct that violated the Code of Conduct and constituted a crime.

Sherburne-Earlville Central School officials are committed to cooperating with police officials and other law enforcement authorities to maintain a safe school environment. Police officials, however, have limited authority to interview or search students in Sherburne-Earlville Central School buildings or at Sherburne-Earlville Central School functions, or to use our facilities in connection with police work.

Police officials may enter Sherburne-Earlville Central School property or a Sherburne-Earlville Central School function to question or search a student or to conduct a formal investigation involving students only if they have been invited by Sherburne-Earlville Central School officials.

If the student's parent cannot be contacted prior to the police questioning or search, the parent shall be informed of the questioning or search by the administrator, program supervisor, or his or her designee as soon thereafter as possible. The administrator, program supervisor, or his or her designee will also be present during any police questioning or search of a student on Sherburne-Earlville Central School property or at a Sherburne-Earlville Central School function.

IX. REMOVAL OF SUBSTANTIALLY DISRUPTIVE STUDENTS

A substantially disruptive student can affect a teacher's ability to teach and can make it difficult for other students in the classroom to learn. In most instances, the classroom teacher shall control substantially disruptive student behavior by using good management techniques. These techniques do not constitute disciplinary removal for purposes of this code. In some instances, however, it may be necessary for a teacher to remove a disruptive student from the classroom to ensure that the other students continue to learn.

The Sherburne-Earlville Central School District has a vested interest in maintaining a safe and orderly classroom environment and in supporting teachers with disciplinary concerns.

A. Traditional Means for Handling a Substantially Disruptive Student

Teachers may handle substantially disruptive students in their classes by following current behavior management procedures.

At the Elementary level, one of these procedures is "time out" in the principal's or the assistant principal's office until the teacher contacts the office to have the student returned to class or to his or her next class.

Another procedure is to send the substantially disruptive student to the office, where the student remains until the teacher can contact the administrator in charge. Parental notification, detention, in-school suspension and out-of-school suspension are some of the consequences that may be initiated by the administrator after conferring with the teacher and the student.

At the Middle School/High School level, “time-out” involves the student’s going directly to the short-term room.

Whenever a student is assigned to detention or in-school suspension, by an administrator, the parent will receive a letter from the administrator.

Whenever a substantially disruptive student is suspended out-of-school, the parent will be notified in person or by telephone prior to the effective date of the suspension. Parents may request an informal conference, which could include the student, parent, teacher, and principal.

In all disciplinary cases, except where a substantially disruptive student is a danger to himself/herself or to others, the student will be told the reasons for being asked to leave class.

B. Teacher Removal of a Substantially Disruptive Student

A teacher may remove a substantially disruptive student from class for up to three (3) instructional periods of that class. An instructional period is defined per class period at the Middle and High School.

A class at the K-5 level is the interval of time devoted to instruction in a specific subject matter area.

If the class is less than 25% over when the student is removed, then that counts as one instructional period of removal.

If, in the teacher’s opinion, a student does not pose a danger or ongoing threat of disruption to the academic process, the teacher must provide the student, before the student is removed, with an explanation of why he or she is being removed. The student must also be given the opportunity to present his or her version of the relevant events. Only after this informal discussion may a teacher remove a student from class.

If, in the teacher’s opinion, the student does pose a danger or ongoing threat of disruption, the teacher may order the student from the classroom and give the student a chance to present his or her version of the relevant events within one full school day.

The removing teacher must fill out an SECSO discipline referral and meet with the principal or program supervisor as soon as possible, but no later than the end of the school day, to explain the circumstances of the removal and to present the referral forms. If the principal or supervisor is not available by the end of the same school day, the teacher must leave the form with the secretary and meet with the principal or supervisor prior to the beginning of classes on the next school day. Additionally, within twenty-four hours, the teacher must notify the student’s parents of the removal and the reasons for it by telephone.

If a student is removed from instruction for a half school day or more, the principal, or another SECS D administrator designated by the principal must inform the student's parents, by phone or in writing, that the student has been removed from class and why, within twenty-four hours after the student's removal. The notice must also inform the parent that he or she has the right, upon request, to meet informally with the principal, supervisor, or the designated administrator to discuss the reasons for the removal and behavior modification(s) to remedy the cause for the removal.

Where possible, notice should be provided by telephone if SECS D has been provided with a correct telephone number for the purpose of contacting parents. Written notice will be required when telephone notification is not available. At the informal conference, the teacher will present reasons for the removal.

If at the informal meeting the student denies the charges, the teacher, the principal, or the designated administrator must explain why the student was removed and give the student and the student's parents a chance to present the student's version of the relevant events. The informal meeting must be held within two school days of the student's removal. The timing of the informal meeting may be extended by mutual agreement of the parent, teacher and principal.

The unavailability of the parent for telephone contact or informal conference shall not impede the removal process. In this case, the student maintains the right to an informal conference.

The principal, or the designee may overturn the removal of the student from class if the principal, supervisor, or designee finds any one of the following:

1. The charges against the student are not supported by substantial evidence.
2. The student's removal is otherwise in violation of law.
3. The conduct warrants in-school or out-of-school suspension.
4. The conduct warrants suspension from school pursuant to Education Law 3214, and a suspension will be imposed.
5. The removal is inconsistent with the Code of Conduct.

The principal or his or her designee must make a determination as to whether to overturn the removal before the close of business on the day after the day of the informal hearing. No student removed from the classroom by the classroom teacher will be permitted to return to the classroom until the principal, supervisor, or designee makes a final determination, or the period of removal expires, whichever is less. At the teacher's discretion, he or she may rescind the removal prior to the expiration of the full period of removal.

Any disruptive student removed from the classroom by the classroom teacher shall be offered continued behavioral and/or educational programming and activities until he or she is permitted to return to the classroom. As soon as possible, but no later than the beginning of the next school day, the removing teacher must provide a guide for instruction and appropriate instructional materials for the student.

Each teacher must keep a complete log (on a SECS D provided form) for all cases of removal of students from his/her class. The principal, or supervisor must keep a log of all removals of students from class. Removal of a student with a disability may, under certain circumstances, constitute a change in the student's placement.

Nothing in this section of the Code of Conduct abridges the customary right or responsibility of a principal to suspend a student. Further, nothing in this Code abridges the customary right and responsibility of a teacher to manage student behavior in the classroom. Short-term, time-honored classroom management techniques such as "time-out" in an elementary classroom or in an administrator's office or sending students briefly out of the classroom are not considered removals from class. The removal process should not become a substitute for good classroom management.

X. DISCIPLINE OF STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The Board of Education recognizes that it may be necessary to suspend, remove or otherwise discipline students with disabilities to address disruptive or problem behavior. The Board also recognizes that students with disabilities enjoy certain procedural protections whenever SECS D authorities intend to impose discipline upon them. The Board is committed to ensuring that the procedures followed for suspending, removing, or otherwise disciplining students with disabilities are consistent with the procedural safeguards required by applicable laws and regulations.

Should removal become necessary, teachers will inform the principal and the Chair of the Committee on Special Education to ensure proper procedure.

This Code of Conduct affords students with disabilities subject to disciplinary action no greater or lesser rights than those expressly afforded by applicable federal and state law and regulations, (I.D.E.A. and New York State Education Law).

XI. CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

Corporal punishment is any act of physical force upon a student for the purpose of punishing that student. Corporal punishment of any student by any district employee is strictly forbidden.

However, in situations where alternative procedures and methods that do not involve the use of physical force cannot reasonably be used, reasonable physical force may be used by a District employee to:

- A. Protect oneself, another student, teacher or any person from physical injury.
- B. Protect the property of the SECS D or others.
- C. Restrain or remove a student whose behavior interferes with the orderly exercise and performance of SECS D functions, powers and duties, if that student has refused to refrain from further disruptive acts.

The district will file all complaints about the use of corporal punishment with the Commissioner of Education in accordance with commissioner's regulations.

XII. VISITORS TO THE SCHOOL

Parents and other district citizens are encouraged to visit the district's schools. Since schools are places of work and learning, however, certain limits must be set for such visits. For these reasons, the following rules apply to visitors to the schools:

- A. Anyone who is not a regular staff member or student of the school is considered a "visitor".
- B. Except for those who are attending public gatherings or meetings, visitors must report to the main office upon arrival at the school. Visitors will then receive a tag identifying them as visitors.
- C. Parents or citizens who wish to observe a classroom while school is in session are required to arrange such visits in advance with the classroom teacher(s), so that class disruption is kept to a minimum.
- D. All visitors are expected to abide by the rules for conduct on school property contained in the Board of Education policy and this Code of Conduct, failure to do so may result in removal from school property.

The administration has authority to determine whether the visitor has an appropriate reason for being in the building. If the visitor is judged by the administrator not to have an appropriate reason, the visitor will be asked to leave. The police may be called if the situation warrants.

XIII. PUBLIC CONDUCT ON SCHOOL PROPERTY

SECS D is committed to providing an orderly, respectful environment that is conducive to learning. To create and maintain this kind of environment, it is necessary to establish rules for public conduct on school property and at school functions. Such rules, as well as consequences for violation of such rules, are contained in this code, as well as Board of Education Policy.

XIV. PUBLICATION, DISTRIBUTION AND REVIEW

Each year the District will:

- A. Provide copies of the Code, or a summary of the Code, to all students at the beginning of the school year.
- B. Publish in an issue of the Maroon and White newsletter a summary of the Code, and make this summary and the code available for review by students, parents, and other community members in each school building.
- C. Provide all staff members with a copy of the Code and a copy of any amendments to the Code as soon as practical after adoption.
- D. The Board of Education will review this Code of Conduct every year and update it as necessary, following all rules of the Commissioner of Education and the S.A.V.E. laws.
